

Silk Flower Headband

Choose your ribbon. Size of your headband and flower. You will also need a needle and thread.

1/2" grosgrain is perfect for a 1/2" size plastic headband. As is 3/8" for 3/8" e.t.c. Measure 2 pieces of 4" of ribbon. Glue one piece of ribbon on each of the ends of your headband. Glue 2" on one side and 2" on the other side of each side of the headband. See photo.

Glue your long piece of ribbon on your headband and pull the ribbon away from you folding it over in a corner and start wrapping it around your headband.

Add a little bit of glue at a time, wrap your ribbon around, add a little bit of glue, wrap over and over again. While wrapping your ribbon around make sure that you don't leave any spaces in between so that your plastic headband will not show. Over lap your ribbon as you are wrapping.

Keep on going until you reach the end. Glue it well so it doesn't come apart.

Take apart your flower so that the plastic insert on the bottom of the flower is removed. Take apart each layer of the flower. Now put the flower back together with no plastic parts! Make sure you get rid of all of them. Glue the flower back layer by layer as you took it apart. When dry sew it on your headband. Gluing really will not hold it well enough.

I've used yellow thread so you could better see what I am talking about.

Now glue the center of the flower back on. That's it! You have your pretty silk flower headband! You can do this with so many different kinds of flowers and ribbons! :)
